BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Work commenced on the New Baseball Park—Personal and General.
Active work has been commenced at the new baseball grounds on First street opposite the old Athletic Park. Part of the lumber arrived yesterday, and the work of digging post holes for the enclosing fence is already well under way. Work on the grand stand and bleachers will be pushed forward at once, the management announcing the first game to take place one week from Sunday, at which time it is proposed to have all improvements completed. Messrs. Turner and Peartree have signed a two years' lease of the land, by the terms of which the owner, George Cummings, is to receive a percentage of the gate receipts, the management to assume all responsibilities, financial and otherwise.

The young people of the Heights have been looking about for some scheme whereby to enliven the monotony of the coming winter weeks and months, and it is now proposed to start a literary society. It will be organized in conjunction with the Epworth League and will partake of the nature of a lyceum with debating contests, etc. The first meeting for organization purposes will be held next Monday evening at the M. E. Church.

Mrs. Koshel has her frame building, corner First and State streets on rollers, and it will be moved today, preparatory to laying the foundations for the new $9000 brick block.

The musical and literary entertainment given by the ladies of Ascension Guild, takes place this evening at the residence of Mr. Schenck on Euclid avenue.

Miss Maud Hamilton of Pennsylvania avenue is entertaining as a guest this week, Miss Bonnie Jones of Pasadena.

THE CHAUTAUQUANS.

Monthly Meeting of the Los Angeles Union Last Evening.

Los Angeles Union of all the Chautauqua circles of the city held its monthly meeting at the First Baptist Church last evening.

The first number in its exercises was an instrumental duet by the Misses Harrison.

After considerable debate the decision was reached that the union should hereafter, where practicable, meet at private residences.

A suggestion of President Houston seemed to meet with favor that the president of the circle providing entertainment should preside during the same.

The president gave notice of prizes offered by Dr. Weller for the best examination in American history. As this is of general interest, a statement of the prizes will be of use. First, Bancroft's History of the United States; second, a set of books for next year's work; third, the Chautauquan for 1892.

Reports from circles evinced great enthusiasm in Chautauqua work for the present year.

A reading by Miss Olmsted was well received.

The time given up to conversation was well used and a determination to become acquainted seemed to possess all.

A vocal solo by Mr. Horton, "How Fair Art Thou," was well received by the union.

Dr. Bullard gave a very amusing "five minutes' talk" on the United States as compared with European customs.

CALIFORNIA IRON.

The Finest Body of Bessemer Ore in the United States.

It is, perhaps, not generally known that in California, and within 175 miles of Los Angeles, there exists the finest body of Bessemer iron ore, both in extent and quality, in the United States. Such is, however, the fact, and this ore body is tributary to this city, lying as it does near the line of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad in the vicinity of Newberry, the first station east of Daggett.

If properly encouraged this immense body of ore may be of untold advantage and wealth to Los Angeles, and in fact all Southern California.

It is the property of the California Iron Steel and Tin Plate Company, who now have a corps of engineers on the ground making surveys of their holdings and also a line for a narrow gauge railroad from the mines to Newberry, and also have a number of men employed developing the mines.

The ore body is a solid mass of Bessemer, without a rock or break, 400 feet in width of more than 3000 feet in length and of apparent great depth—300 feet of which is already exposed.

Some Pittsburg (Pa.) men, joined by others of the West, now comprise the company. They contemplate soon putting up two blast furnaces on the railroad at Newberry, and other extensive works at some point in California.

The parties interested have been busy for several months perfecting their plans and are now ready to vigorously prosecute their work. Los Angeles, being the nearest city of importance to the mines, and, in fact, in Southern California, stands a good chance to secure the proposed works, which, if located here, would forever settle the supremacy of this city as a manufacturing center, as well as in population.

When the case was taken up after the regular daily police business had been disposed of the usual number of court loungers were present. It was 4 o'clock before the first witness, the "Countess," was called.

On taking the stand, Mr. Stephens said to the "Countess":

"Madam, did you when court adjourned at noon today step up to the rail and say to Judge Hunsaker 'you old ————, I'll get even with you yet, you old ————?'"

Mr. Stephens. We object to the question.

The Countess. Your Honor, I never used such language in my—

Mr. Stephens. Madam, keep quiet.

The Court. The objection is sustained.

Mr. Stephens. Did you, madam, say in San Francisco that you would throw vitriol in Ben's face, as another woman had done?

The Countess. I did not.

Witness did not consent on either the 11th or 14th of September for Ben to get her a partner in the saloon. She and Ben did talk about his getting her a partner on the 24th of September.

On re-direct examination witness explained the conversation had with Ben on the 24th of September by saying that in the evening he came to her room and snatched $100 out of her hand and said he would turn everything over to her. He then asked her to go out to drive and they had a little glass of beer. She asked him why he had bought all the clothes for his folks and he replied that he had to repay them for coming down here, and then he drew a pistol on her. He also bought one of his brothers a $40 chain. He said it was all right, and that he could sell the place at any time for $9000. The conversation about a partner was on the day of Ben's arrest. She did not know that Ben claimed to be a partner until after his arrest. On the Sunday evening after Ben's arrest he visited her room and called her out in the hall. He was crying, and made such a noise that the landlady came out and told them to go in her room. He begged her not to prosecute him, and said she would ruin both of them. He almost got on his knees and said she would ruin him for life if she sent him to State's prison.

On re-cross-examination she stated that she did not offer to withdraw the charges if he would turn the business over to her. The night Ben snatched $100 from her, she was out after him trying to get the money back. She was out until daylight in the morning.

Most of the afternoon was spent by counsel in arguing on objections to questions.

A recess was taken until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

After BEN'S SCALP.

AFTER BEN'S SCALP.

A Day of Sensations in the Hunsaker Examination.

A Young Lady from San Diego Who Wants Justice.

The "Old Judge" Roundly Abused by the "Countess."

Threats of Cow-hiding Before the Matter is Settled—Almost a Fight in the Courtroom—New Facts Brought Out.

There were several sensational developments in the Hunsaker embezzlement case yesterday and it is more than probable that there will be blood, in several colors on the moon before the matter is settled, as the "Countess" and her sister have been reinforced by a Miss Frazier of San Diego and her brother-in-law, who appeared in the courtroom shortly before the case was called, and created quite a sensation in the camp of the Hunsakers. Miss Frazier is a rather pretty little brunette. She dresses stylishly in black and makes a fine appearance.

She and her brother-in-law took seats just inside the rail and opposite the Hunsakers. For fully three minutes she kept her bright eyes fixed on Ben Hunsaker and the workings of her face showed that she had no love for that individual.

As soon as the Court ordered the case proceeded with, Mr. Stephens, for the defense, rose and asked that all witnesses in the case be excluded from the courtroom.

The Court. Have you any witnesses in the room, Mr. Philbbs?

Mr. Philbbs. No, sir; I believe not.

Mr. Stephens. I would like to know if you intend calling on that lady.

Mr. Philbbs. I don't think we shall.

The answer did not seem to please the learned counsel for the defendant, and addressing the Court, he said: "Your Honor, there sits the woman who claims to be the wife of Ben Hunsaker, and beside her is her brother-in-law. Both have come here from San Diego. Now I want to know if they have been called a distance of 120 miles for nothing, and I insist that they retire from the courtroom."

The Court was about to instruct them to retire, when Mr. Philbbs's assistant jumped to his feet and exclaimed: "That is Miss Frazier, and she is here to see that justice is meted out to Ben Hunsaker, and the gentleman by her side is her brother-in-law."

This statement created quite a breeze in the courtroom, but before a climax was reached, the Court ordered the attorneys to proceed with the case, and Mr. Philbbs announced that Miss Frazier would not be called as a witness in the case.

The Countess then took the stand on cross-examination and the rest of the forenoon was occupied on the part of the defense in trying to break down her testimony, but she held her own and her story was not shaken when the noon recess was taken.

Another sensation was created as the parties to the case were making their way out of the room.

The elder Hunsaker was standing immediately in the Countess's path and as she passed him she whispered: "You old duffer, you proposed to moon me, you old rascal, and I'll get even with you yet."

A SARDONIC contemporary thinks that the saloon trade is largely maintained by good resolutions.

A PENNSYLVANIA convict fell heir to $1,000,000, and strange to say, it was found out simultaneously that he was innocent. If he had had the million to start with, he would never have been considered guilty.

GEN. McCook's report, a brief mention of which was wired to the press yesterday, is presented in full synopsis this morning, taken from the official copy furnished THE TIMES by the courtesy of Assistant Adj. Gen. Corbin. It is an informing military document.

The story is out that S. S. H. Clark, vice-president and general manager of the Missouri Pacific Railway, has been called upon by Jay Gould to act as his first lieutenant in finance. The "little wizard" is supposed to have more than his hands full, with his accumulating responsibilities and failing health. And yet he wants to accumulate more.

The regular monthly statement of money circulation in the United States finds the average to be, on the 1st of October, $23.75 per capita. This is an increase of total circulation of $20,000,000 since three months ago, or an average of 30 cents per capita. The per capita is based on the estimated population of 64,440,000, which is found by starting from the census figures of last year and applying to them the ratio of increase for the preceding decade.

The Church of the Unity of this city is under peculiar embarrassment now on account of the loss of its building by fire some time ago. The Pacific Coast Unitarian Conference is to meet in Los Angeles the last of this month, and close the series of conferences begun here last fall. What the local Unitarians are to do for a place in which to hold the sessions is a problem which confronts them, but it is probable that, before the time arrives, some other denomination will come to the rescue with the tender of an auditorium.

JERRY SIMPSON, the "sockless," is in trouble. At Cleveland he made a speech denouncing the millionaires in true reformer style, after which he went to a restaurant with Congressman Tom Johnson, a rich Democrat, and some other boon companions, and indulged in a champagne supper. The committee of the People's party heard what was in the wind, followed him to the restaurant and upbraided him for his insincere actions. They also refused to pay him for his speech, whereupon Simpson grew indignant and defiant. It's the old, old story of the professional agitator. He is much the same the country over, whether he wears socks or not.

A SAN FRANCISCO paper complains that New Yorkers seem to be getting California fruit for about the same price that San Franciscans pay for it, while the large supply of eastern fruit, mainly apples and grapes, gives the New Yorker a far better chance to get good fruit cheap than we enjoy here. The charge is made that although we live in the heart of the finest fruit country in the world, fruit and vegetables become dearer each year. Our contemporary thinks that a fortune awaits the man who will devise some means of bringing the producer and the consumer together, so that the costly toll of the wholesale and retail dealers may be abolished.

THE proceedings of the California State Board of Trade in session in San Francisco, September 8, are before us, neatly presented in a pamphlet of thirty pages. The publication is chiefly valuable for an address of William H. Mills on the advisability of the Nicaragua Canal, which is given in full. Mr. Mills calls attention to the fact that the original trade has not been what once was expected of it, and our foreign trade is still almost wholly confined to Europe. Under these circumstances our commerce has to be carried on either through the Atlantic ports or sent on a long voyage around the Horn.

The produce of California does not go through San Francisco to reach the markets of the world, but through New York. San Francisco, in fact, is only a back door of the continent. The construction of the canal will bring California face to face with Europe. Our produce will go out through our ports and our imports will come in through them. We will no longer be the back country of the Atlantic seaboard, but will ourselves have a front position in the world. This will cause all the commerce generated by the products of the country west of the 108th meridian to turn toward the Pacific Coast, and this means that a million of square miles of land, capable of supporting an enormous population, will be made tributary to us and will enrich our railroads and all forms of our industries. This, of course, will bring an increased population, for we shall then have the means of employing all who come. The construction of the canal, therefore, will secure for us a new position on the commercial map of the world, and the introduction of entirely new conditions, making possible the full development of our vast natural resources; and under such circumstances every Californian should be willing to aid and assist the enterprise as far as lies in his power.

Next Month's Elections.

Elections are to be held in the United States on the 3rd of next month as follows:

Virginia will elect one-half of its Senate and a full house of delegates. Iowa will elect a governor and other State officers and a legislature. Massachusetts will also hold a general State election.

Mississippi will elect three railroad commissioners and a legislature. Nebraska will elect an associate justice of the Supreme Court and two regents of the State University.

New Jersey will elect a pair of the Senate and the Assembly.

Ohio will hold a general State election and vote upon a proposed amendment to the Constitution providing for uniformity of taxation. Pennsylvania will elect a treasurer and an auditor-general, vote upon the question of holding a constitutional convention and choose delegates to the same. New York will hold a general election, choosing a governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, controller, treasurer, attorney-general, engineer, surveyor, the Senate, the Assembly, ten justices of the Supreme Court and a representative in Congress from the Tenth District.

Maryland will elect a governor and other State officers and Legislature, and vote upon six proposed amendments to the Constitution. The first empowers the Governor to disapprove separate items in appropriation bills; the second restricts the exemption of corporations from taxation; the third provides for uniformity of taxation; the fourth relates to the election of county commissioners; the fifth authorizes the sale of the State's interest in all works of internal improvement; and the sixth empowers the Legislature to provide for the taxation of mortgages, if such taxation is imposed in the county or city where the mortgaged property is situated.

The pivotal State—that in which the result is fraught with the most important results for the whole country—is Ohio. This is so, not only because Ohio has come to be regarded as the pivotal State in the electoral college, but because the campaign is being fought on national issues, and because there is Presidential timber in it. Nothing is more likely in politics than that, if Maj. McKinley wins his battle in Ohio, he will be called upon to lead the Republican hosts in the next Presidential campaign. His opponent, Gov. Campbell, while not so marked a man in national affairs, derives considerable advantage from the prominent position he now occupies, and should be the winning man. He may be equally favored in 1892 by the national Democratic party.

The situation is one of the most intensely interesting which has ever been witnessed in the political history of the country. It reminds one of those conflicts between opposing armies in ancient times, when each side sent forth its champion to do battle for the whole, as did David and Goliath.

The interest is enhanced greatly by the fact that the Ohio campaign is nobody's fight until it is fought out. There is a very decided element of uncertainty about it. Two years ago the Democrats carried the State, electing Gov. Campbell, who now brings the prestige of former success to aid his cause. On the other hand the Republicans are fighting under a leader of great personal popularity, and for issues which take a strong hold upon the people. They have something of the spur of desperation, too, for they know that, if they lose this election, they will be left for the first time in many years without a representative in the Senate of the United States, and the State will be so gerrymandered as to make it almost sure for the Democratic side in the next Presidential election.

The Farmers' Alliance also comes in as an unknown factor. These party is generally drawn more heavily from Republican than from Democratic ranks for the reason that Republicans are the more intelligent and independent class, and therefore the more apt to go off on a tangent. This factor in the fight may be offset, however, by disaffections in the Democratic ranks. The Hamilton county delegation was badly disappointed in the nomination of Campbell, and it is thought, has prepared a long knife to go under his fifth rib.

Thus the issue stands as McKinley and Campbell are jointly canvassing the State, each presenting his side in a masterly manner. It has been called "a battle of giants" and so it is. It reminds us most forcibly of that other battle of giants—the joint campaign of Lincoln and Douglas—which paved the way for the nomination of both participants, for the Presidency.

Let us hope that the Lincoln-Douglas campaign may be an augury for this in its ultimate rather than in its immediate results. We want our present champion to win the day both in his State and in his national fight. That he will accomplish the former, at least, there is good reason to hope. The people of Ohio are roused to a pitch of interest and enthusiasm that has seldom been equaled and when Ohio has become thoroughly waked up, hitherto, the Democracy has had to go down. The heart of the Buckeye State is Republican.

Maj. von Wissman has reached Zanibar with the material for the field railway on which his steamer is to be conveyed to Lake Victoria. His railway is to be taken up from behind and laid in front of the steamer as it advances. By using rails he expects that 1,000 carriers will suffice to take the vessel to the lake. Without the railway he would need about 7000 porters.

The Santa Barbara Press explains that its recent trouble with the post-office authorities was due to the fact that an item was published announcing that a Santa Barbara man had drawn some money in a lottery. It was not intended as a lottery advertisement, but an item of news. About a dozen copies of the paper were held back on account of the item. Our contemporary takes this wholesome ground on the main proposition:

The Press is in hearty accord with the anti-lottery laws, and has always done its utmost to uphold them. This paper has never published lottery advertisements, and every one of its readers and every business of that character. This is not only true since the passage of the lottery laws by the last Congress, but for years past. For a fact the present proprietors controlled the paper, no lottery advertisements have appeared in the Press.

AMUSEMENTS.

LUDLAM FACILITY RECITAL.—The cosy auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building was well filled last night, the audience being largely made up of the most prominent people in musical and artistic circles. The programme was a long one and was arranged with good taste, comprising, as it did, a happy blending of literary and musical selections. Nearly all the participants are so well known here from frequent appearances, that any extended comment upon their respective performances is needless for. It is sufficient to mention the names of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ludlam, Mrs. J. R. Cole, Harley E. Hamilton, Mr. Bierlich and Miss Gertrude C. Finney for 't' as one to be apparent that an entertainment of sterling excellence was afforded.

Mr. Ludlam's reading selections comprised "The Spanish Duel" and a little poem called "Drifting," by Buchanan Reed, pieces that called for little dramatic power, but depended upon intellectual interpretation. Mr. Ludlam has never done anything more genuinely artistic than his achievement in these selections.

The principal interest of the evening was no doubt centered in Miss Mary L. O'Donoghue, a young lady of considerable reputation as a pianist, and who is the latest addition to the faculty of the Y. M. C. A.

The occasion was also marked by the appearance of the Lorette Quartette, composed of the Misses Lizzie Kimball, Doris Bryant, Edith Smith and Edith Gardner. These young ladies sang several selections with great sweetness and were much applauded. They were naturally a trifle nervous, but they were really to be encouraged to future effort.

The faculty set a good example by declining all demands for "encores," an example that should be generally followed here.

Tariff Pictures.

Farmville, Va., is one of the largest tobacco markets in the south. The repeal of domestic tobacco taxes and the increased protection given to domestic tobacco by higher duties on imported tobacco have increased the acreage of tobacco, and whereas the sales at Farmville last year up to October 1, were 3,500,000 pounds, this year they were 5,000,000 pounds. And yet Virginia's Congressmen denounce the McKinley bill.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

Pennsylvania's Exposition building will cost $75,000.

The Florida Horticultural Society has asked for three acres in which to show an orange grove and make a fruit display. Indiana will have a $100,000 building at the fair, but it will not cost that much, however, as a large share of the material, all of which will come from that State, will be donated.

The Western Union Telegraph Company intends to frame handsomely the first telegraph message ever sent, which was in May, 1844, and exhibit it in the Electrical Department at the exposition. The message was received by Prof. Morse at the Capitol in Washington, from an assistant in Annapolis.

Aside from the cost of the great buildings, which will not be far from $7,000,000, the following are among the sums which have been or will be spent in preparation of the exposition grounds: Grading and filling, $450,000; landscape gardening, $233,000; viaducts and bridges, $125,000; piers, $70,000; railway improvements, $25,000; railways, $500,000; steam plant, $800,000; electric lighting, $1,500,000; statuary, $100,000; vases, lamps, etc., $50,000; lake front adornment, $200,000; water works, $500,000; other expenses $1,000,000; total $5,943,500. The total expense of organization, administration and operation of the exposition will not be less than $10,000,000. This takes no account of the sums to be spent by the Government, the States or foreign nations.

One of the one of the finest business corners in Chicago have decided to erect a $1,000,000 sixteen-story building to be called "The Columbus," in honor of America's discoverer. The plans contemplate a structure strikingly artistic and ornate in appearance, of the Spanish style of architecture. On each side of the main entrance will be placed a bronze tablet, the first bearing this inscription:

Erected in honor of COLUMBUS
in the year 1892
being the 500th anniversary of the discovery of America
The other tablet will show:

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.
Born at Genoa in 1452.
Discovered America the 12th day of October, 1492.
Died at Valladolid the 24th day of May, 1506.
It is the intention to have the building completed by May 1, 1893.

The Coming Man.
A pair of very chubby legs.
Incased in scarlet hose.
A pair of little stubby boots.
Will beset on those little toes.
A little kilt, a little coat.
Cut as a mother can.
And lo! before us stands in state
The future's coming man.

His eyes, perchance, will read the stars
And search their unknown ways;
Perchance the human heart and soul
Will open to their gaze;
Perchance their keen and flashing glance
Will be a nation's light—
Those eyes, that now are wistful bent
On some "big fellow's" kite.
Those hands—those little busy hands
So sticky, small and brown—
Those hands whose only mission seems
To pull all order down—
Who knows what mighty strength may be Hidden within their grasp.
Though now 'tis but a taffy stick
In sturdy hold they grasp.
Ah, blessings on those little hands
Whose work is yet undone!
Whose feet are yet unshod!
Whose race is yet unborn!
And blessings on the little brain
That has not learned to plan!
Whose eyes the future boldly glare,
God bless the coming man!

Shelly was foreman over a gang of graders working on the Crocker-Huffman works and last night, he, with Sullivan and others, came to town and drank quite freely. On their way to camp the two quarrelled, but did not come to blows. This morning the quarrel was renewed and Shelly gave Sullivan a severe beating. Sullivan came to town and procured a revolver and returned to the camp where the shooting took place.

Sullivan surrendered himself to an officer and was brought to town and placed in jail. He is well known here, having been a laborer since 1872 and has never been known as quarrelsome.

Fresno's Heavy Raisin Shipments.

FRESNO, Oct. 14.—A special train of twenty-six cars, all loaded with raisins, left this evening for New York via New Orleans. The Prison Ship Al-Ki and Her Mutinous Crew Return.

Ill-fated Sealers Having a Hard Time to Dodge the Nine Warships That are Constantly Patrolling.

By Telegram to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] This morning the steamer Al-Ki, Capt. Plummer, arrived from Ounalaska after a passage of nine days. The Al-Ki has been stopping at Ounalaska as a prison ship, chartered by the United States Government. The steamer brought down Commander Meade, U.S.N., Lieuts. Turner and Pendleton of the marine corps, and United States District Judge Tarpley.

Capt. Cochran was in command of a party of marines, who will be transferred to the marine barracks at Mare Island. The Al-Ki had also on board nine invalids, all belonging to different warships at Ounalaska.

Capt. Plummer states that the Thetis sailed from Ounalaska for this port on the 4th inst., but was compelled to return on account of bad weather. She intended to make another start as soon as the gale moderated. The Mohican intended sailing from Ounalaska on the 10th inst.

Capt. Plummer said: "The Al-Ki sailed from San Francisco on the 22nd of June and made the run to Ounalaska in ten days. She lay there thirty-three days as a prison ship for seized sealers, and in that time had on board three sealers' crews belonging to the English schooner E. B. Marvin and the American schooners Nympha and Ethel. On August 14 we sailed for Sitka with the Ethel and Nympha in tow, and arrived on August 10 at noon with no mishaps.

"On August 11 the crew of the Al-Ki refused to do duty, and the firemen and coal passers also. I put six of the crew in jail and on the 12th of August they were taken out and put on board the Mohican. I managed to get a crew from the schooner Nympha and put them on board, but the firemen and coal passers refused to let them work and would not work themselves. It was nothing more nor less than a mutiny. The men expected to live on fresh meat, which was almost impossible to get in those waters. Some concessions were made and we sailed from Sitka August 15 and arrived at Ounalaska August 20.

"While lying at Ounalaska there were at times as many as fifteen ships in port, and during the summer as many as fifty-four ships have been in Ounalaska harbor. The sealers had quite a hard time to dodge so many warships, for there were nine of them, English and American, cruising.

"On July 4, at Ounalaska, the crew refused to obey some necessary order issued by the first officer. I found it necessary to call on Capt. Cochran, and he told me the next time the crew revolted to put every one of them on shore and he would give whatever assistance was desired to get the ship back to San Francisco. As soon as the crew heard this, matters changed and no further difficulty arose."

The Corwin's Captures.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—A Washington special says that dispatches received at the Treasury Department bring news of the arrival of the revenue cutter Corwin at Port Townsend, after a six months' cruise in Bering Sea for the protection of the seal industry. Two poaching schooners, seized for the violation of the sealing regulations, the Nympha and Ethel, have been condemned after a lengthy trial at Port Juneau. Upon the arrival of the Corwin at San Francisco she will be supplied with coal and start northward again for a cruise along the Columbia River.

One sealer captured by the Corwin has been sent to Port Townsend in charge of a prize crew, but it had not reached that port when the Corwin started for San Francisco.

Protest Against Opening the World's Fair on Sunday.

The Brethren will Make Their Appeal to the Federal Commission.

The Question of the Federation of All Churches Again Comes up.

A Session Devoted to the Discussion of "Education"—Addresses Delivered by Several English and Other Delegates.

By Telegram to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Rev. J. D. Murray of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Baltimore presided over the council today. After the usual devotional exercises the Committee on the Sunday Closing of the Chicago Columbian Exposition, made a report which was prefaced by the statement that "the local directors of the fair are under the control of large stockholders. These stockholders are railroads, street car companies and brewers. All these corporations are clamoring to have the exposition open on Sundays. The only hope of success of the conference lay in the United States Commission which is in some sense responsible to the people."

The reasons given for closing are that the opening of the exposition on Sundays would violate the Sabbath-keeping tradition of the American people and also the laws of the United States and Illinois; that thousands of employees in the service of the exposition would be deprived of their right to rest one day in seven, and that it would furnish an excuse for employers for refusing to grant holidays for the purpose of visiting the exposition, which would otherwise be given. The committee asserts that the stockholders will not lose money by closing on Sundays, and they believe that many of the exhibitors from Great Britain and other Christian lands will refuse to expose their exhibits on Sunday, which would be unsatisfactory to visitors.

After some debate the report was adopted unanimously. The Business Committee next reported back the resolution on the subject of Methodist federation. It recites that the conference recognizes the desire for Christian cooperation among evangelical churches, and especially among the various Methodist churches; that while the time for organic union might not have arrived yet, concerted action is now possible. Therefore it was recommended that the conference decide whether such concerted action be possible, and if so, by what means and ways. The secretaries were also directed to send copies of the resolution to the senior bishops and presidents of the conferences represented here.

Half a dozen delegates spoke in terms of praise of the resolution, but before the debate closed further consideration of the subject was postponed until tomorrow.

The topic of the morning session was "Education," and the first paper was one by Rev. W. M. Fitchett of the Australian Methodist Church of Victoria, entitled, "Religious Training and Cultivation of the Young." The writer urged strongly the duty of the church in the education of the young. When the State entered the field of primary education no competition was possible. It was a great monopoly, and therefore lay the danger of the church. In ten years the primary education of the young would be secular. The peril was that it might be not only non-Christian, but anti-Christian.

Hon. John Evans of Denver, Colo., who was to speak upon the Sunday schools, was ill, so the subject was treated by the Rev. Dr. Robert Colley of London, from an English point of view. Not only should teachers understand the truths of the Bible, he said, but they should be able to teach. Much of the teaching now was incoherent and indefinite. There were few teachers who could deal thoroughly with a book of the scriptures.

Rev. Dr. Waller of England said that the salvation of the country depended upon the salvation of the children. By a strange irony, in Victoria they took the Bible from the hands of the school children only to thrust it into the hands of the criminal when he entered the jail. The Bible was being driven out of the public schools in America, and the church should redouble its efforts to reach the young in other ways. Rev. John Smith of England read an essay on "Elementary Education." Elementary public schools should be freed from all religious domination, and as they were sustained by the people they should be kept in the people's hands. [Applause.]

Alfred J. H. Crossfield of Manchester, England, condemned the existing school system of England, saying that it turned out many little bigots instead of scholars.

A number of other delegates discussed the subjects pro and con.

The Queen's Health Improving—Annexation not Generally Favored.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Minister Cleghorn, of the Hawaiian Islands, and father of the heir apparent, arrived here from England yesterday.

Concerning the recent statements about Queen Liliuokalani's illness he said: "Those stories are all entirely without foundation. The Queen is in much better health now than she has been."

Minister Cleghorn read several letters from the Queen's chamberlain and others dated September 24, 25, and 26, telling of the Queen's movements, her daily horseback rides, her improving health, her change of residence from the palace which is lonely since the death of the King, to Washington Terrace, her former home.

"As to the stories about annexation" he continued, "I can say first that it is the desire of the people, except a very small number indeed who favor annexation to the United States, that we shall remain a free and independent country. I will say further, however, that should it ever become necessary to change our flag, which God forbid, we would rather see in its place the flag of the United States than that of any other country." Mr. Cleghorn's daughter will remain in England till 1893.

Relations with China Not Suspended.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—It is said at the State Department that the report from Shanghai that the foreign ministers have closed negotiations with the Chinese government cannot be true so far as this Government is concerned for the reason that no instructions of that character have been issued by the President and the acting minister would hardly presume to take such an important step in the absence of positive instructions.

The ex-President of Adams Express Being Investigated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—President Sanford of the Adams Express Company, who was yesterday elected to succeed Hoey, took possession of the office of the company this morning. He is investigating the status of the business. No changes of officers or agents are contemplated at present.

He refused to give further details at present, but added that there is no telling what the future will develop, and it will be some time next week before he could tell "how much the ex-president has taken from the company." He does not think, however, it will reach sufficient magnitude to in any way affect the value of the stock.

An evening paper states that ex-President Hoey sold out all his Adams Express stock before he entered into the deal which has cost him his position.

A FIENDISH ACT.

An Escaped Convict Laps Off a Woman's Ears.

COLEMBIA (S. C.), Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Fred Kempson, a convict sent up recently for eighteen months from Lexington county for assault and battery with intent to kill, made his escape from the State penitentiary about a week ago. He went back to Lexington county, met his former victim and offered her the choice of either having her throat cut or her ears cut off. She not being able to help herself chose the latter, whereupon the hardened scoundrel dexterously severed both ears. He also cut a section of her clothing, wrapped the dissected members in it and left her after making bloody threats against the persons who had been instrumental in effecting his arrest and conviction.

He wore a dark winter suit without overcoat, a derby hat and carried a small leather bag and umbrella.

THE PRISON CONGRESS.

Officers Elected—A Paper on the Increase of Crime.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—[By the Associated Press.] At the session of the Prison Congress this morning a resolution was adopted requesting ministers of the United States and Canada to regularly observe the fourth Sunday in October as Prison Sunday, on which day collections should be taken for the furtherance of the work of reformation.

Ex-President Hayes was chosen president for the ensuing year, and Rev. J. L. Mulligan of Allegheny, Pa., secretary.

At the evening session Frederick H. Wines of Springfield, Ill., delivered an address on "Crime in the Census of 1890." Wines said that a comparison with the census of 1880 would show a great increase in crime. The increase in the number of prisoners was 40 per cent., while the population had increased 25 per cent. The greatest increase, however, was in jails. After other papers the congress adjourned to meet at Baltimore next year.

Injured by an Explosion.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), Oct. 14.—By the explosion of a locomotive boiler in the Kansas City Railway's shops near this city this afternoon, eleven men were injured, two probably fatally. The injured are: John J. Clancy, John May, Martin McGrille, William Davidson, David Field, James Dickinson, James Slavin, Harry Garrison, and three others slightly injured.

The Testimony in the Field-Shorb Case All In.

Frankie Le Claire on Trial for Grand Larceny—Foreclosure Suits Before Judge Van Dyke—General Court Notes.

The Supreme Court yesterday disposed of a heavy calendar, fifteen criminal and two civil cases being acted upon.

There being no appearance for the appellants, the judgment of the trial courts were affirmed in the cases of People vs. Burdick, from Santa Clara, and People vs. Bibby, from Fresno, and People vs. Woo Sing et al., from San Francisco.

The following cases were continued until the November term at Sacramento: People vs. Forrester et al., San Francisco; People vs. Cowgill, Placer; People vs. McNamara, San Francisco.

In the case of the People vs. Lemmer, from San Francisco, the respondent was allowed until November 20 in which to file briefs, the case thereupon to be submitted.

The following cases were ordered to stand submitted upon the briefs on file therein: People vs. Mesa, from Ventura; People vs. Smalling, from Calaveras and Merrill vs. First National Bank of San Diego.

The San Francisco case of the People vs. Phelan was argued pro and con, and the respondent was allowed twenty days within which to file brief, the cause thereupon to stand submitted; and a similar order was made in the case of People vs. Barry, from Sonoma.

The appellant in the case of the People vs. Delwood et al., from Fresno, was allowed five days in which to file his brief and the respondent twenty days thereafter in which to reply, the cause thereupon to stand submitted.

Pursuant to stipulation, the two cases of the People vs. Ahern, from San Francisco, were ordered submitted on briefs, the parties being allowed twenty days each in which to prepare the same.

In the local case of Francisco, Jen vs. Aguirre et al., the parties were allowed five days each in which to file briefs, the case thereupon to stand submitted.

Upon motion of J. L. Murphy and presentation of license from the Supreme Court of Colorado, John B. Hanna was admitted to practice as an attorney and counselor at law in all the courts of this State.

Upon motion of the Attorney-General the case of the People vs. Samuel J. Fleming was placed on the calendar and taken up at 4 o'clock for hearing. The matter was presented by T. J. Carran, Esq., for appellant and Atty.-Gen. Hart and District Attorney McLachlan for the respondent. At the close of the argument the case was ordered submitted upon briefs, the parties being allowed twenty days each in which to prepare the same.

Court then adjourned until this morning, when five Orange county and six San Luis Obispo cases will be heard.

THE FIELD-SHORB TRIAL.
The taking of testimony in the sensational case of Field vs. Shorb was concluded yesterday afternoon, and in all probability the matter will be submitted to the jury today.

When the case was resumed before Judge Van Dyke and the jury in Department Four yesterday morning, the reading of the deposition of Mrs. Shorb, taken before Judge Clark on October 20, 1890, was proceeded with and at its close the defense rested its case.

The following witnesses were then called and examined in rebuttal by the plaintiff: H. J. Woolcott, D. W. Field, S. B. Dewey and A. S. Shorb. No new facts were developed, however, and at 3:20 o'clock both sides rested. Charles Monroe, Esq., then made the opening address to the jury on behalf of plaintiff, and occupied the floor until the hour of adjournment. The argument will be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning.

FRANKIE LE CLAIRE ON TRIAL.
In Department Six yesterday the trial of the case against Frankie Le Claire, alias Little Bailey, upon the charge of grand larceny, preferred against her by A. J. Monroy, who accused her of having, on the night of August 25 last, robbed him of $370 belonging to Abram Ruiz, was commenced before Judge McKimley and a jury.

Assistant District Attorney Thomas appeared for the prosecution, while the defendant was represented by J. M. Brooks, Esq.
The following witnesses were examined for the prosecution: A. J. Monroy, L. Stanton, P. Bissell, M. T. Bowler, J. W. Mitchell, J. R. Home, L. Raymond and Nic Tronost. Their testimony was nearly a reiteration of that given on the preliminary examination of the case, each of them being subjected, however, to a prolonged cross-examination by defendant's counsel for the sole purpose, apparently, of bewildering the weary jurors and testing the patience of the court. The case will be resumed this morning.

Court Notes.
The case of Mary E. Flashner vs. D. W. Waldron, which came up for hearing before Judge Clark in Department Two yesterday, was after a second amended complaint and answer had been filed therein, submitted upon an agreed statement of facts and briefs, the parties being allowed twenty days in which to prepare the same.

In Department Three yesterday the case of Sarah C. Whigham vs. F. H. Barclay et al., a suit to foreclose a mortgage for $7000, came up for hearing before Judge Clark, who ordered judgment for plaintiff as prayed.

In Department Four yesterday the foreclosure cases of Ed Schieffelin against E. J. Guirado et al., and J. Schieffelin et al., came up for hearing before Judge Van Dyke, who ordered judgment for plaintiff as prayed.

In Department Five yesterday James Lacey of San Fernando appeared before Judge Shaw upon a writ of habeas corpus and applied for his release from the custody of the Sheriff, on the ground that he was illegally detained by virtue of a defective commitment issued by Justice Reed of that place. The Court, however, continued the matter for hearing until this morning, the petitioner's bail being reduced meanwhile to $500.

Judge Shaw yesterday ordered that the defendants in the condemnation suit of the Land, Power and Reservoir Company against Carrion and others recover their costs from the plaintiff.

The case of C. Paye vs. J. W. Haselmann having been settled amicably out of court, Judge Shaw yesterday ordered that the appeal therein be dismissed.

Judge McKimley yesterday denied the motion of the defendant in the case of Margaret T. Sterling vs. James Smith to vacate the order of September 21, entering judgment therein in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $3696.75.

New Suits.
Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

William Smith vs. Southern Pacific Company; suit to recover judgment for $26,300 damages, alleged to have been sustained by plaintiff, a bridge builder, while at work in the Soledad Cañon on June 28, 1890.
A. L. Russell vs. A. McCartney; suit to determine conflicting claims to a lot in the Grover Orchard tract.
Mary E. Haynes vs. J. W. Haverstick; suit to recover $1200 alleged to be due on a contract to sell five lots in the Cunningham tract.
J. S. Slauson vs. P. W. King et al.; foreclosure.

THREE BURGLARIES.
A Series of Burglaries on Angeleno Heights Yesterday.

All of the Stolen Property Recovered and the Thief Lodged in Jail—Good Work by the Detectives.

The city is rapidly filling up with tramps and crooks generally, and citizens can not be too careful about seeing that doors are locked and windows barred about their premises at night. The police are keeping as sharp a lookout as possible, and are meeting all incoming trains, with a view to heading off suspicious characters, but vigilance is necessary on the part of the citizen as well, and all suspicious characters should be promptly reported at headquarters, as well as all robberies and attempted robberies, with full descriptions of all stolen property, in case anything is missing.

The first series of robberies occurred yesterday, and owing to the fact that the police were promptly notified, the stolen property was recovered and the thief lodged in jail.

Yesterday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock a burglar entered three houses on Angeleno Heights and succeeded in getting away with some valuable jewelry at each place. At the residence of Joseph Bechtel, No. 1320 Carroll avenue, he got a fine gold watch and some small change. He then entered the house of A. B. Phillips, a few doors down, and stole a silver watch and a few dollars in change. From there he went to a lodging-house at No. 1243 Ionia street, and entered the rooms of B. P. Ward, D. C. Morrison and E. E. Galbraith, and got a silver watch and two fine gold watches and a pair of gold eye-glasses. He also got a small sum of coin.

The matter was reported to the police station at once and Detectives Bowler, Auble and Bosqui were detailed to work the case up. Shortly after noon they saw a stylishly-dressed man enter a pawnshop and offer for sale a gold watch. The watch answered the description of one of the stolen watches and the fellow was placed under arrest.

At the central station he gave the name of J. C. Reffell. His room was located in a fashionable lodging-house where he had been putting on considerable style for a few weeks past, and in a closet two more watches were found, and when he was confronted with this evidence he confessed the whole thing and told where he had sold one of the watches, and took the detectives to a spot where he had buried the last one. Thus all the jewelry was recovered and the thief was lodged in jail. He is one of the best-dressed men in the city, and has the appearance of being a perfect gentleman. He answers the description of one of the best-known eastern crooks, who started for the Coast a few weeks ago, and the Los Angeles officers were notified to look out for him.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon one of the boldest robberies that has been reported for some time past took place on Macy street near the bridge.

A lady was walking up the street when her attention was called to a boy who did not seem to be more than 14 years of age. He kept his eyes on her in a most impudent manner, but the lady thought nothing of his boldness until he stepped in front of her and struck her a powerful blow in the chest knocking her against a fence.

Before she could recover herself she grabbed her purse, which contained $21, and made off as fast as he could run. She gave the alarm, and several men started after him, but he made good his escape, and has not been heard from since.

GENERAL FARM TOPICS.
Timely Information for Southern California Farmers.
As many as fifty Banning Indians, male and female, arrived in town yesterday. The prospect of securing lucrative employment at grape picking has induced the noble red man to pay us this visit. The arrivals are large, strong-looking people and look capable of a good day's work in the grape field. They will, in all probability, find ready employment, as labor is in good demand here.—[Riverside Enterprise.]

E. A. Duval has a fruit farm of twenty-three acres that is bearing apricots, nectarines, prunes, apples, pears, plums, peaches and other fruits. English walnuts, blackberries and raspberries. We enjoyed a lunch of the red harvest pears averaging fourteen ounces. This ranch is in splendid condition. Mr. Duval is desirous of disposing of his place because of a multiplicity of cares and duties.—[Ventura Free Press.]

Sounds sort of odd to say that snow has been flying at a lively rate in this country during the past week or two, but it is a fact. Snow could be distinctly seen whirling in great drifts on the tops of the high mountains encircling this semi-tropical valley lately. So we are informed by persons who have been where the north sides of the mountains have been in view. Seems odd, doesn't it? But such things lend an added charm to the many other advantages of a residence in this land of the afternoon.—[Citrograph.]

COYOTE SCALPS.
The Amount So Far Paid Out in Bounties.
A Sacramento special says that Gov. Markham, Secretary of State Waite and Attorney-General Hart, who comprise the State Board of Examiners, have passed upon all the coyote claims for the first quarter. About a dozen claims have been retained for further board, the rest having been paid. It is said that the claims are much larger than expected.

An affidavit has been prepared by Secretary Pratt of the board which orders the clerks of the Board of Supervisors, with whom the coyote scalps are deposited to get the sworn statement of the person presenting the scalps, to the effect that the scalps were deposited within three months after the coyotes were killed; that they were killed within the county and that the party depositing the scalps had himself killed the coyotes.

The above provisions have been made in order to lessen the possibility of fraud. Heretofore anyone could purchase scalps or take them in payment for goods, and no one would know whether the coyotes were killed in California, Arizona or Nevada.

It is generally believed that a great proportion of the claims made on the State treasury for coyote scalps are based on imports from Nevada and Arizona.

From the official records the total number of claims was 1204, aggregating $602 scalps, the amount of the bounty being $28,010. Fresno led the list, with 790 scalps amounting to $3950. The lowest number reported was three scalps each, in three counties. Los Angeles is fifth on the list, with 114 claims, 408 scalps, amounting to $2040.

No more claims for scalps killed during the first quarter will be entertained by the board of examiners. Over $20,000 has already been paid out, by the State Treasurer, and as soon as the remaining claims are audited by Controller Colgan, who receives them from the board, the entire first quarter's payments will be finished. If the claims to be presented for the second quarter exceed the present anticipations of the Board of Examiners, it is probable Atty.-Gen. Hart will be requested to make a thorough official investigation, and to recommend a law which will put a stop to all illegal practices in the coyote scalp line. All that the Board of Examiners have done so far was to send back the suspicious claims and ask for explanations.

Dr. Wong Him
Chinese physician and surgeon, has resided in Los Angeles sixteen (16) years. His reputation as a thorough physician has been fully established and appreciated by many. He has where the north sides of the mountains have been in view. Seems odd, doesn't it? But such things lend an added charm to the many other advantages of a residence in this land of the afternoon.—[Citrograph.]

Phillips, a few doors down, and stole a silver watch and a few dollars in change. From there he went to a lodging-house at No. 1243 Ionia street, and entered the rooms of B. P. Ward, D. C. Morrison and E. E. Galbraith, and got a silver watch and two fine gold watches and a pair of gold eye-glasses. He also got a small sum of coin.

The matter was reported to the police station at once and Detectives Bowler, Auble and Bosqui were detailed to work the case up. Shortly after noon they saw a stylishly-dressed man enter a pawnshop and offer for sale a gold watch. The watch answered the description of one of the stolen watches and the fellow was placed under arrest.

At the central station he gave the name of J. C. Reffell. His room was located in a fashionable lodging-house where he had been putting on considerable style for a few weeks past, and in a closet two more watches were found, and when he was confronted with this evidence he confessed the whole thing and told where he had sold one of the watches, and took the detectives to a spot where he had buried the last one. Thus all the jewelry was recovered and the thief was lodged in jail. He is one of the best-dressed men in the city, and has the appearance of being a perfect gentleman. He answers the description of one of the best-known eastern crooks, who started for the Coast a few weeks ago, and the Los Angeles officers were notified to look out for him.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon one of the boldest robberies that has been reported for some time past took place on Macy street near the bridge.

A lady was walking up the street when her attention was called to a boy who did not seem to be more than 14 years of age. He kept his eyes on her in a most impudent manner, but the lady thought nothing of his boldness until he stepped in front of her and struck her a powerful blow in the chest knocking her against a fence.

Before she could recover herself she grabbed her purse, which contained $21, and made off as fast as he could run. She gave the alarm, and several men started after him, but he made good his escape, and has not been heard from since.

COYOTE SCALPS.
The Amount So Far Paid Out in Bounties.
A Sacramento special says that Gov. Markham, Secretary of State Waite and Attorney-General Hart, who comprise the State Board of Examiners, have passed upon all the coyote claims for the first quarter. About a dozen claims have been retained for further board, the rest having been paid. It is said that the claims are much larger than expected.

An affidavit has been prepared by Secretary Pratt of the board which orders the clerks of the Board of Supervisors, with whom the coyote scalps are deposited to get the sworn statement of the person presenting the scalps, to the effect that the scalps were deposited within three months after the coyotes were killed; that they were killed within the county and that the party depositing the scalps had himself killed the coyotes.

The above provisions have been made in order to lessen the possibility of fraud. Heretofore anyone could purchase scalps or take them in payment for goods, and no one would know whether the coyotes were killed in California, Arizona or Nevada.

It is generally believed that a great proportion of the claims made on the State treasury for coyote scalps are based on imports from Nevada and Arizona.

From the official records the total number of claims was 1204, aggregating $602 scalps, the amount of the bounty being $28,010. Fresno led the list, with 790 scalps amounting to $3950. The lowest number reported was three scalps each, in three counties. Los Angeles is fifth on the list, with 114 claims, 408 scalps, amounting to $2040.

No more claims for scalps killed during the first quarter will be entertained by the board of examiners. Over $20,000 has already been paid out, by the State Treasurer, and as soon as the remaining claims are audited by Controller Colgan, who receives them from the board, the entire first quarter's payments will be finished. If the claims to be presented for the second quarter exceed the present anticipations of the Board of Examiners, it is probable Atty.-Gen. Hart will be requested to make a thorough official investigation, and to recommend a law which will put a stop to all illegal practices in the coyote scalp line. All that the Board of Examiners have done so far was to send back the suspicious claims and ask for explanations.

Dr. Wong Him
Chinese physician and surgeon, has resided in Los Angeles sixteen (16) years. His reputation as a thorough physician has been fully established and appreciated by many. He has where the north sides of the mountains have been in view. Seems odd, doesn't it? But such things lend an added charm to the many other advantages of a residence in this land of the afternoon.—[Citrograph.]

Orange and Lemon Lands

At Redlands, Montone and Barton Ranch. Only 10 per cent cash down; no further payment for 6 and 10 years.

Over $400,000 worth of this class of land has been sold by the undersigned in Montone and Redlands in the past two years in 10 and 20-acre tracts, and ALL to settlers, of which is now planted and has handsome residences thereon.

The demand for land at MONTONE has increased very materially since last winter on account of not having any frost there to injure the most delicate shoot on the orange tree.

The demand will be greater now than ever before for the reason that the recent storms did not do one dollar's damage to the orange trees.

The formation of the mountains around MONTONE is such that it is almost entirely free from the north and east winds, it being about 2,000 feet above sea level, and about 40 miles from the ocean, the fog does not drift in the air—cool in summer and warm and dry in winter.

The budding orange tree, strawberry guava, apricot, peach and fig, bear fruit MONTONE first year after planting. The olives grown on three-year-old trees received first premium at the State Fair this year.

Location.
Montone is the highest station on the Santa Fe R.R., 11 miles from San Bernardino, only 3 miles east of the business center of Redlands. The motor line and Southern Pacific are now preparing to extend their roads to Montone; they are within three miles of there at present.

The oranges, lemons, olives and all other fruits grown at MONTONE and vicinity are the best and highest priced in the market. There is no black smut, no scale bug or fruit pests of any kind. There are orange, lemon and about all other kinds of fruit trees there more than 20 years old. Some of the orange trees bearing 15 boxes to the tree, and some of the lemons 20 boxes.

Death of Maj. Nolton.

Maj. Robert H. Nolton died at his residence in Vernon yesterday, aged 74 years.

Maj. Nolton was one of the best-known residents of Vernon, and did much to advance the interests of that section. He had been here ten years, and was one year at Fresno, where he planted the great Barton vineyard.

Previously coming to California, Maj. Nolton was private secretary to T. B. Blackstone, president of the Chicago and Alton Railroad for 19 years, during which time he acted as paymaster for the Chicago and Alton, and filled other positions with the company. He was at one time a merchant of Syracuse, N. Y., and was born in Schoharie county, that State.

Maj. Nolton left two sons—George and Lansing, both conductors on the Santa Fe.

WATER! WATER!

Is the great need in Southern California.

—THE— Gov. Stoneman Home Tract

Has not only an abundance but the property on the market for sale has its full quota set aside and run into a separate reservoir for this tract only. No shotgun brigade required to protect the buyers' interests in the water they purchase with the land. The owners of this tract absolutely own and control the water reservoir and pipes appropriated. On account of this arrangement with Mrs. Stoneman the few remaining lots are worth from $50 to $100 more per acre, but will be sold at the old price. Ask F. Q. Story, E. Pollard or Wallace & Sons, Alhambra, if we have overstated the value of remaining lots. Those parties who have been hesitating about buying lots in this tract need wait no longer. The gentlemen named are old successful fruit growers—have been through several water wars. By their co-operation and the wish on the part of Mrs. Stoneman to remove all differences that ever could arise about the ownership, control and distribution of water, a mutual arrangement was brought about and now all subsequent purchasers can enjoy the results of their labor on their behalf. With all complications that might arise from the receipt and distribution of water eliminated, the few remaining lots are a great bargain. Let us show you these lots; they are very desirable. EARLEY & CONGER, 30 Bryson-Bonbrake Block, city, or 52 E. Colorado st., Pasadena, exclusive agents, will give you all the information desired if you will call upon them.

Lesson in Geography.

Where is East Whittier?

It is 14 miles southeast of Los Angeles and is bounded on the north and east by the Puente Hills, that break the cold north winds in winter and the dreaded Santa Anas in the summer; on the south by an unbroken stretch of beautiful valley and plain to the ocean, which is plainly visible from the upper portions of the East Whittier Tract; on the west by Whittier and the Lower San Gabriel Valley, the outlook on the west, southwest and south taking in the whole sweep of country from Los Angeles to Santa Ana.

What is East Whittier?

It is the old Ramirez Ranch subdivided into 5 and 10-acre tracts with a soil of great depth and richness that for years has raised great crops of wheat, barley and corn without any water. A region practically frostless, where heliotrope grows the year round. It is now the most desirable acreage property in Southern California for home-seekers. The property will not be sold to speculators, only to those who will at once improve it. These lands will soon be offered at $200 per acre; some extra choice locations at $250 per acre, with water. You buy the land and water together and not simply a water right, and you get the finest kind of both. For further facts about East Whittier watch this ad. or call on or address

COLORED AMERICANS.

Shall They Leave the Land of Their Birth,

And Go to a Strange Country in Search of Homes?

Or Remain Under the Protecting Egis of the Nation's Flag?

The New-fangled "Colored Mexican Colonization Company" Hauled Over the Coals by a Clear-headed Colored Man.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.-[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Of late I have heard so much about the great necessity of removing the negroes from the South, and colonizing them in various parts of this and other adjacent republics, that I have concluded to express an opinion with regard to the matter.

The latest scheme sprung on the colored population of Los Angeles, since the ubiquitous R. C. O. Benjamin swept through our midst on a scent that, fortunately for the community, led him further southward, is known as the "Colored Mexican Colonization Company," which was duly organized and incorporated under the laws of this State, in the city of San Diego, a little less than a month ago. I am recently from a public meeting which was called by its president, E. Wilson of Coronado Beach. The meeting was first addressed by Rev. C. M. Anderson of the Second Baptist Church. He expressed himself as being anxious to see the colored people leave America and go where they can be men, as they certainly cannot be here. Following him came Elder Pointer of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, who grew very enthusiastic in his approval of what he considers a grand opportunity for the negro race, and pledged all his physical and mental energy to carry it to a successful issue. Next came Judge J. M. Soto of San Diego, who, in a broken manner, explained the colonization laws of Mexico. He spoke apparently in an earnest manner of the project and its feasibility, giving an elaborate description, in his own peculiar way, of that portion of old Mexico which it is the intention of the company to colonize with colored people.

Indeed, the picture which he drew was so dazzling that I do not wonder at his being blinded to all the difficulties in the way, which have doubtlessly melted before his ardent imagination. If the sanguine projectors of this grand scheme of colonizing and expatriating a race that has been here for 270 years, and has increased until it has become like the stars of heaven for multitude, would stop and think for a moment what it means to colonize or expatriate a race of people, it would be time, money and unhappiness saved to all concerned.

The two races are necessary to each other, and any policy which would separate them would entail untold misery on succeeding generations. Therefore, I protest against all schemes calculated to induce the negroes to abandon the soil upon which they were born. I believe it to be high time that all agitators, white and black, should drop such visionary projects, and recognize the lignum vitae fact, however unpleasant it may be, that the negroes are here, and here to stay; that they have as good a right to be here as anybody else; that they were born on this side of the Atlantic; that they have no knowledge whatever of foreign lands; that the only country they know is the one in which they were born, and that they have the right to say: "Here my ancestral fathers lived for many generations; here we were born; here our children were born, and, by the help of God, here we will live, and here we will die."

If they will only recognize the above fact as one that cannot be changed by any amount of agitation or litigation, the only remaining question is whether the two races can live side by side without constant friction. I believe they can and will, but not until education becomes general on both sides.

Although the indefatigable agitator colonizationists will tell us that it is simply an impossibility that the juxtaposition of two races alien to each other in nature, as in blood, yet living on the same soil and having the same rights, means perpetual war—a war like that between the Spaniards and the Moors, which lasted 800 years, to end like this, in the final extermination of the one or the other, I for one, repudiate the very idea. I cannot believe such to be the inevitable doom of the black man on the American continent. My great faith in the Christian spirit that prevades this whole land stifles any such unwarranted apprehensions.

From the background of a gloomy past, it is a relief to turn our eyes toward a brighter future. It has been only a little over a quarter of a century since we received our freedom. Since then we have been, as it were, on trial to prove whether or no we are worthy of the liberty which has been given us through the intervention of divine providence, or whether it were better that we had been kept in bondage. And with all our imperfections and utter ignorance on the start, I maintain that we have stood the test admirably.

We have proved ourselves not only good hands at our old business of the shovel and hoe, but have demonstrated to the world considerable accumulative ability, a remarkable aptitude for learning and wonderful staying qualities. In proof of which it is only necessary to cite one single instance. In Georgia the negroes pay taxes on $10,000,000 worth of property, and as property subject to taxation is generally estimated at about one-half its value, this would indicate that the negroes of one Southern State alone are worth $20,000,000. Does that look like retrogression or a dead standstill? If not, then it must look like an onward march in the right direction.

Northern and Western negroes complain bitterly about not being permitted to enter the various avenues of industry. Their sons are denied apprenticeships in the various shops, and their daughters are denied employment in the various avenues of industry peculiar to their sex. In Georgia the negroes encounter no such barriers. They can enter any trade, and if they become first-class mechanics, can always find plenty to do. Why then, persuade them to leave? In view of the above facts there is but one conclusion at which a sane man can arrive and that is that northern and western competition is harder on the negro than southern prejudice, and such being the case, with genuine frankness, I say to those who are always howling about the disadvantages and perplexities besetting our race in the South, that there is light breaking all along the horizon, and that the negroes, and instead of trying to induce them to abandon the soil, whose forests they fill, and whose lowlands it was theirs to clear, they had better bestir themselves or the southern negroes will win the great race in an easy canter, notwithstanding the many drawbacks with which they have to contend. See to it that the rising generation attains to a higher standard of intelligence than you have done. Teach them that "mind—intelligent mind," is one of God's most precious gifts to man, and that he demands of us its improvement. Teach them to be true to one another, true to their friends, true to their God, and there will be no need for complaint nor colonization.

If you have surplus money to invest, according to my notion, there is no place west of the Rocky Mountains where you can invest it to a better advantage than right here in Los Angeles. Mexico on the whole is badly supplied with water, and the Mexicans have discontinued the system of irrigation, which was followed by the Aztec races with so much success, many tracts have become barren and utterly unsuitable for human occupation. A great portion of the tableland can only be used for pasture. Springs are rare, and many of the rivers flow in deep mountain beds, without receiving smaller tributaries, while the rapid evaporation on a light soil covering porous rocks leaves the surface dry, hot and unable to support any vegetation beyond cactus and low grasses," says its topographer. THOS. PEARSON.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Decorating the Hall for the Approaching Fair.

Ladies of the Annex Busily Engaged—New Contributions Received—Shipments to Chicago—Beet-sugar Shipments.

Active preparations for the fair are in progress at the Chamber of Commerce, and the bustle increases as the time of opening approaches. The new building adjoining the chamber on the south side has been completed, and a door cut through from the main hall. This gives access to a large, well-lighted room, 60x38 feet, which will be used as an art gallery during the fair. A heavy load of women from the Ladies' Annex were busy here all day yesterday, making cypress rope for decorative purposes. All members of the annex will be welcome every day from now till the opening of the fair to assist in this work. Hon. S. M. White will give an address on the opening evening, and an invitation has been sent to Gov. Markham to be present and address the crowd of people who will attend. L. E. Mosher will read one of his apt poems, and there will be other exercises.

The chamber loses one of its first and best contributors in the death of Maj. Norton, which occurred yesterday morning. For some time before Vernon had a table Maj. Norton kept up one of his own, which was always well supplied with the finest exhibits of fruits and vegetables from his Vernon ranch, and not a week or scarcely a day passed but some generous donation was received at his chamber for this, one of its most liberal and interested members.

Some fine specimens of ore and tin from the Temescal mines were brought in yesterday by Mr. Purcell.

Miss McKinley is busy as a bee working up a big exhibit from Vernon, and expects to capture some blue ribbons after dinner.

The chamber has been presented with a framed photograph of the monster 1000-pound turtle which was taken at San Pedro about two months ago.

Ventura is rallying to the front, as she always does, and has sent twenty cases of exhibits in the last three days. Newark and Artesia have sent ten cases.

The chamber shipped ten cases of fruit and vegetables to Maj. Truman yesterday, for the permanent Chicago exhibit.

The three-wheeled buggy, which has been missing for several days, has reappeared in an improved condition to remain during the fair. An elegant baby buggy was put in today, to be given to the baby who takes the first premium at the baby show. Seven infants have already been entered as contestants.

Some fine samples of yellow and white corn were put in yesterday from Artesia, ingeniously arranged in the form of a pyramid.

The chamber has issued the following circular:

The Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles is desirous of ascertaining what sections of the county will make the necessary preparation for the establishing of beet-sugar factories. Capital cannot be induced to go into the building and equipment of a factory unless a satisfactory security is given that several thousand acres in the immediate vicinity will be put into the cultivation of the sugar-beet. It will not meet the desired purpose to have this amount of land pledged by a single individual, because of the question of labor. While it has been sufficiently demonstrated that the culture of the sugar beet is admirably adapted to this section, it is nevertheless a matter of experiment to the individual grower, and to accomplish satisfactory results, care and attention are required of a sort that is likely to be given by hired help as by the land-owner himself.

With this plan in view, a circular has been prepared which will be given the widest possible circulation through the schools of the county. It contains a blank form which the ranchers are requested to fill out and then mail to the Chamber of Commerce. In this way a comparative estimate can be made of the acreage that can be depended upon in the various sections of the county, and this will be made the basis of further investigation in the same line. Whenever the desired territory is pledged in any locality, steps will be taken to place a factory there.

The time for action in this matter is brief. The erection and equipment of a factory will take the greater part of a year. The beets which will be worked up next summer must be planted during the coming winter, and the seed must be brought from Germany.

The importance of the beet-sugar industry to Southern California can hardly be overestimated. It is a crop that can be depended upon with unfailing regularity, for which there is always a market in the neighborhood of a factory. The creation of large manufacturing interests means an increase of population to be fed, and thus indirectly benefits the farming community.

It is hoped by the committee from the chamber having the work in hand that wide publicity may be given to the matter, in order that a large number of responses may be received.

The circulars will be sent out at once, and distributed among the school children, who will take them home, have them filled in, and return them to the teachers, who will, in turn, transmit them to the Chamber of Commerce.

GEN. MCCOOK'S REPORT.

Army Operations in the Department of Arizona.

The Commander's Account of His Stewardship in 1890-91.

Military Posts, Indian Reservations and Compulsory Education.

Poor Scholars and Bad Soldiers—The Record of Offenses—Some Recommendations and Comments.

The full annual report of Brig. Gen. A. Mc. McCook, commanding the Department of Arizona, has just been received. The report contains much that is of interest beyond military circles, as well as data of great value to the War Department. The General begins his report to the Major-General commanding the army by a terse description of what constitutes the department under his command.

The Department of Arizona consists of the Territories of Arizona and New Mexico, with that portion of the State of California which is south of the 35th parallel, comprising a total area of 276,010 square miles. Within this area are Indian reservations covering 26,303 square miles, with an Indian population numbering 39,677. At one time there were eighteen military posts in this department, but a number of them have been abandoned and the buildings and reservations upon which they stood turned over to the Interior Department, to relieve the army from the expense of taking care of them.

Ten of the eighteen posts are now occupied by troops; one of them at San Diego, where there are no officers' quarters, and only barracks for the enlisted men of one company. The General devotes considerable attention to the deplorable condition of San Diego harbor, and relates the incident of the Itata and the United States deputy marshal to illustrate the need of several land batteries, properly armed and manned, to effectually protect the post.

The various forts of Arizona and New Mexico are given each a brief description, and certain recommendations are made in regard to needed betterments for the good of the service. Following this Gen. McCook speaks of the various Indian tribes occupying the reservations, and gives a brief account of the tribal outbreaks which have occurred among some of them.

A good word is said for the school established at Kearns Canon for the education of children from the Moqui villages, and it is recommended that it should be encouraged morally, physically and financially. The General's report concludes by alluding to the faithful performance of duties by the staff officers and his aids de camp.

ON POST SCHOOLS.

Assistant Adj. Gen. H. C. Corbin submits to the commanding general consolidated school reports from the several posts of the department. It is evident, he says, that the orders of the War Department in relation to post schools are being carried out as far as conditions will permit, and the school attendance is greater this year than last. But the fact is clearly set forth that the gentlemen of the department who, except in exceptional cases, serious doubts that compulsory education in the army benefits neither the service nor the soldier. Adj. Gen. Corbin, as superintendent of the post schools, finds that as the men enlist in the army to "soldier" solely, they look with suspicion upon anything that is foreign to their idea of what pertains to the service. Others, he says, hide under the cover of a pretended desire to receive instruction and thereby escape the more arduous duties of the better and willing soldier; feign an interest in the blackboard rather than do their share of fatigue, thus breeding dissatisfaction among the good soldiers.

It is his belief that schools should be continued at all the posts, for voluntary attendance of soldiers and children, but that provision be made only for a primary course. At the larger posts he would recommend annually a course of lectures or essays from each of the commissioned officers of the posts, to the assembled garrisons—officers and men; these essays to be open to debate and to be fully discussed. And, in addition, he would have provided at such posts a good and sufficient library, such as would enable either officers or enlisted men to pursue with success any ordinary course of study or investigation. This way would be attractive and would without doubt attract the attention of all thinking men, and bring all together in harmony in the pursuit of a better education.

The consensus of opinion gathered from the reports, each post bears out Adj. Gen. Corbin's conclusions in regard to the educational feature of the service.

FIELD SERVICE.

Department Inspector Adna R. Chaffee reports on various topics, including transportation of company property, schools, messing, desertions, canteens, gymnasiums, horse equipments, ordnance stores and messpans. He recommends a more systematic means of packing and transporting company property. Under the head of "instruction" Maj. Chaffee says that the cavalry does not receive the amount of instruction it should have in battalion and at the troop and gallop. Officers and men, he thinks, should ride the trot oftener and for longer distances than is usually practicable on post drill grounds, in order that the exertion necessary to harden and fit men and horses for sudden work, rapid marches, may be obtained. He finds that instruction in the charge is almost wholly neglected, being regarded by a good many officers at least, as a waste of time and an unnecessary risk for men and horses in practice. "Since the close of the War of the Rebellion," he says, "our troops have proceeded too much at the walk, carabine in hand. It is time to lengthen rein and recover something of the boldness in horsemanship that properly belongs to mounted troops. It can be done by frequently practicing the charge. The importance of excellent line riding, pace, seat and skillful point does not seem to be appreciated as it ought to be by the cavalry troops in this department."

Speaking of messing the Major thinks there is not a shadow of doubt that the supply of fresh vegetables, authorized by act of Congress of June 16, 1890, and consequent improvement of the company messes, has greatly contributed to making the enlisted man more contented with his engagement. All the company messes are now good, with the aid of funds obtained through careful supervision of the messes by the officers, and other funds received from canteens, the variety of food is now much greater than formerly, and is in all respects sufficient. He concludes his report by certain recommendations as to reducing the size of messpans. Capt. H. K. Bailey gives a tabulated report of the "criminal" record in the department, giving the number of offenses for which men were tried, for being absent without leave, 34 men were tried; for desertion, 20; for disobedience, 21; for writing letters containing false statements, 36. There were 94 desertions from the different organizations serving in the department, for which it seems only 20 men were recaptured and tried.

The report of Quartermaster A. S. Kimball is voluminous and exhaustive, going into all the details of his office, as is also the report of Medical Director Joseph R. Smith.

The volume is packed with information, like a recruit's knapsack with "trunk."

THE GOLDEN-GATE'S GRASPING.

San Francisco's New Scheme to Rob the Interior.

[Sacramento Record-Union.]

Before the era of railroad communication with the Eastern States, San Francisco was par excellence the metropolitan distributing center of the Pacific Coast. The commerce of this Coast entered at the Golden Gate, and departed by the same way. Our products were carried by sea around the Horn, except as to a small tonnage of higher class which went by steamer and rail across the isthmus; but the import and export business was through the port of San Francisco. The completion of overland railroad connection proved that the railroads could successfully compete with the ocean, since the great tonnage of commerce is carried by rail; but the change of route taken by the commerce, both import and export, affected materially the relation of the city of San Francisco to its interior supporting country. San Francisco claimed from the outset the exclusive right of being regarded as the competing point, and desired that the tonnage carried by rail should be carried through to San Francisco at less rates than to interior points, so as to extend the supremacy of that city as a distributing center. This was found to be impracticable, because at such cities as San Jose, Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville and other points water competition was met. That is to say, the rate by ocean and to Sacramento was less than by ocean and to Reno. Therefore the rate from eastern through points to California had to be adjusted to meet this competition. Out of these physical facts; out of the natural advantages possessed by San Jose, Stockton, Marysville and other places, grew the establishment of through points, to which freights were carried at rates exactly corresponding to those accorded San Francisco. By this means these points became distributing centers, and to that extent became metropolitan centers, enjoying all the advantages possessed by San Francisco. The latter city has forever been restive under this condition of affairs. It believed itself endowed with a superiority of right as a distributing center. It did not believe that Sacramento should have the same rate of overland carriage accorded to San Francisco, and enjoy the additional advantage of lower local rates by reason of the shorter distance to interior points.

The extension of other lines of road to this Coast has formed other centers, notably Los Angeles and San Diego on the south, and Portland, Tacoma and Seattle on the north. Formerly all these places were within the commercial territory of San Francisco, and tributary to it. Los Angeles, San Diego, Portland, Tacoma and Seattle and points analogously located with reference to commercial advantages, are distributing centers by force of uncontrollable circumstances. In addition, Sacramento, Stockton, Marysville and San Jose are distributing centers by equally uncontrollable factors. Out of the establishment of these various centers a competition with the chief metropolis arises. These advantages are inherent. They are the full and free concession of the Transcontinental Association. They are simply the liberal recognition on the part of the railroad company of the inherent and natural rights of the localities mentioned. No convention, however numerous attended, to form traffic associations, can reverse this natural order of things, and we declare unhesitatingly that to reverse them is the first and most natural desire of San Francisco. In any movement led by that city, the leadership will be away from the highest interests of these through points. Business men of the interior will wisely consider their own interests by each taking care of their communication with their own locality in their own way. If San Francisco had its way today, it would be the only through point on this Coast. It would demand, and, if it had the power, enforce rates which would carry a vast tonnage through a territory to its extreme verge, at rates which would enable it to distribute back economically to the territory over which the tonnage had once been carried. This desire of the chief metropolis city is a perpetual menace to the interior points. All paths San Francisco will point out lead to a concentration of the commercial transactions at the Golden Gate.

The Supervisors.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday the petition of the Wither Bros. Company for a franchise for the Chuquena Valley Railroad was presented and upon motion of Supervisor Hubbard was taken under advisement.

The District Attorney having informed the board that it had no jurisdiction in the matter of the adjustment of the San Gabriel Valley Land and Water Company's rates, the matter was dismissed without action.

A petition asking for the vacation of Wisconsin avenue was granted.

The demands of Edward Tring and W. Hayes for rebate of their taxes were disallowed in accordance with the report of the District Attorney, to whom the matter had been referred.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

Conference on the Outfall Sewer Right of way.

Mr. Freeman to Submit a Definite Proposition in a Week.

The Chances for an Agreement Regarded as Very Uncertain.

Regular Weekly Meetings of the Police and Fire Commissioners—Charges Against Officers—Saloon Business—Suspensions.

A conference between the members of the City Council and Dan Freeman, the owner of the Centinela ranch, relative to a right of way for the proposed outfall sewer to the sea through his property, was held yesterday morning.

The conference was more in the nature of an informal discussion with a view to arriving at some sort of an understanding on which the parties in interest could negotiate. The Councilmen were of the opinion that $4 per head of 100 miner's inches was a reasonable price, while Mr. Freeman was positive that no one could pay this price and make anything out of it. It was urged on the one side that this was the rate now being charged in the city, but against this it was argued that while the same amount of money was charged per head, the amount of water was two or three times as much, the ditches running full. The Councilmen were unanimous against any proposition involving more than a five-year contract. Mr. Freeman stated plainly that he had not given the matter sufficient thought to submit a definite proposition of any kind at this time. He is opposed to the sewer passing through his property at all, but as there has been some talk about the Council fighting its way through, he thought best to talk over matters and see if some sort of an equitable arrangement could not be made.

Finally the following propositions were submitted to Mr. Freeman, that gentleman to give his answer definitely in a week:

First—What sum he wants to allow the sewer and lateral to go through his property without his using the water.

Second—How much with his using the water.

Third—What sum he will accept provided the outfall strikes the sea half a mile below his ranch, so that his villa sites will not be impaired.

Fourth—What he is willing to pay for the use of the sewage or water.

After the conference several of the Councilmen were seen by a Times reporter, and when asked as to the result, replied that the outlook for a settlement was not bright. While Mr. Freeman did not say so in so many words, from remarks made by him they were of the opinion that he would not grant a right of way for less than $200,000, and might ask more. If this should prove correct, it is more than probable that condemnation proceedings will at once be commenced.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

The regular weekly meeting of the Fire Commissioners was held yesterday morning, with Mayor Hazard presiding and Commissioners Kuhrtz, Brodrick and Stern present.

The Chief preferred charges against Driver Charles Goff of the hook and ladder truck for careless driving on August 24, in response to an alarm from box No. 5. The axle was sprung, the breast beam torn off the truck, through collision in his driving. On October 8 he collided with something and broke a cast-iron hub of the truck; the whole costing $50 to repair. Mr. Goff was suspended from duty for one week.

The Chief also reported the following changes in the department during the past week:

D. Brown, driver of engine No. 4, transferred to engine No. 6; J. Springer, driver of engine No. 6, transferred to engine No. 4; W. B. Stoermer appointed callman vice George W. Hood of engine No. 3, resigned. The changes were approved.

Mr. McGarry's motion in the City Council that the City Engineer prepare plans for building two cement cisterns holding 4000 gallons each, one in Janja No. 1 at Seventh and Mateo streets and one at Ninth and Alameda streets, was referred to the Chief.

After the approval of the usual demands and requisitions, and the transaction of some routine business, the board adjourned.

POLICE BUSINESS.

The Board of Police Commissioners met in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, with Mayor Hazard presiding and Commissioners Lewis and Dexter present. Commissioner Bryson is in attendance at the Bankers' Convention in San Francisco, while Commissioner Snyder was detained by business, but came in later.

The Chief reported on the matter of the application of Emil Shoemaker for a saloon license at No. 426 North Main street, that he had reason to believe that the saloon would be run in the interest of P. Ballade, and the matter was laid over until the cases against Ballade are disposed of in the Police courts.

The application of S. F. Anselmo for a saloon license for No. 624 North Main street was granted.

The following applications for transfers of saloon licenses, being in regular form, were adopted: Kepker & Savage, No. 245 East First street, from Joseph Levy; John H. Kennedy, No. 101 Requena street, from Valentine Huber; Rappell & Hion, 719 North Alameda street, from Sage & Soule; J. J. Donovan, No. 226 East First street, from J. J. Donovan; Germain Pedersen, No. 210 Aliso street, from F. de Forester; Charles Yoerger, No. 251 East First street, from Joseph de Millard.

The Chief reported the suspension of Officer A. C. Vignes for violation of the rules of the department, which action of the Chief was sustained.

The resignation of Officer Vignes was then presented, and the same was accepted.

A communication from Officer Rohn, now absent in the East, asking for an extension of thirty days of his leave of absence, which was granted.

A. J. Stone, a patrolman in the employ of Emil Harris, preferred charges against Officer Todd, accusing him of drunkenness on the 8th of October, and also of malicious prosecution in arresting him in connection with the Last & Fisk burglary, which arrest was unjustifiable.

On motion of Commissioner Lewis, the matter was referred to a committee consisting of Commissioners Lewis, Snyder and Dexter, with the Chief, for investigation.

Phineas T. Woodworth was appointed a special officer without pay from the city, to investigate some pilfering in the vicinity of his residence on Ocean View avenue.

After the approval of the usual demands and a general discussion of New High-street "social evil," and violations of the Sunday-closing ordinance, the Chief being instructed to rigidly enforce the law, and also to report cases of violation, with a view to revoking the licenses, the Commissioners adjourned.

MUSICAL AT BELMONT HALL.

The faculty and pupils of Belmont Hall gave their initial reception and musical last evening, which was attended by any appreciative audience. The spacious hall has been fitted up and fully equipped for a young ladies' boarding school, under the direction of the principal, Prof. H. A. Brown, who, assisted by Mrs. Brown, the faculty and the students, received the guests last evening. The musical program was carried out in a snug little music room on the second floor, opposite the parlors. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers and foliage. Beautiful potted palms graced the halls, and greens, brightened by scarlet geraniums, were massed in the music-room. Miss Katherine Kimball, who is always listened to with delight, sang, Miss Garrie B. Conger showed her skill as a pianist in some pleasing selections, and Miss Pearson gave a violin solo. Miss Signor, the teacher of elocution, demonstrated her ability by some well chosen and well read selections, and three of her pupils, Misses Adams, Bryson and Trower, recited in a manner highly creditable to their instructor. During the informal reception which followed, the guests visited the studio on the fourth floor, where Miss Coan presides over the art department of the institution.

The affair was so delightful that the series of similar entertainments promised during the winter will be looked forward to with pleasant anticipation.

W. R. C. ENTERTAINMENT.

A large audience gathered at G. A. R. Hall last evening to enjoy the entertainment given by the ladies of the John A. Logan W. R. C. An orchestra was in attendance and opened the program with an overture. A motion song, participated in by Misses Lenora MacKenzie, Emily and Maud Curtis, Ruth Jackson and Masters Lawrence Shinn, Arthur Bell, Fred and Johnnie Reardon and Claude Methedon was one of the most pleasing numbers. Miss Pearl Gleason played the accompaniment and the little folks went through with the movements incident to the song with childlike grace.

Tom Barnes, the inimitable, recited in his usually humorous style, and Messrs. Walter Malloy and J. N. Hamer also gave recitations. Mrs. L. P. Collett sang and to which Mr. Spencer's sweet voice was heard in a popular ballad. A piano solo by Mrs. N. C. Brown, a quartette by Misses Collett and Weeks and Messrs. Swab and Carson and some entertaining tableaux by Mrs. McDonald and others completed the program, after which dancing was enjoyed.

RECEPTION.

The members and congregation of Union Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church last Monday evening, tendered Rev. I. L. Spencer and his family a very kind and hearty reception upon their return to that church for another conference year.

C. H. Smith, the Sunday-school superintendent, in behalf of the Sunday-school and church delivered the address to which Mr. Spencer responded. A very fine literary and musical program was rendered to the delight of the large company present. The church was beautifully decorated with many designs and mottoes. Refreshments were served and the evening fully enjoyed by all.

SUNNY SLOPE

TO THE FRONT.

This beautiful tract of land needs no introduction to the residents of Southern California. Every one who knows of Los Angeles county, also knows of the L. J. Rose's Sunny Slope Ranch and why the production of which have a national reputation.

This tract has been put on the market at the earnest solicitation of some of the oldest residents who well know the value of it for all kinds of fruit, and the fine surroundings which make the tract a veritable paradise for villa homes.

There are three lines of railroad running frequent trains connecting this place with Los Angeles, Santa Feon the north; the Montevia Rapid transit extending through the center, and the Southern Pacific on the south. A portion of these lands are covered with live oak timber.

The first one hundred acres to be offered here is the south of Colorado street, and within 1000 feet of the railroad passenger depot, and will sell in tracts of five, ten and twenty acres to suit purchasers, at low prices on five years' time, 7 1/2 per cent interest and a reduction on cash.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

The Southern Pacific Officials will Arrive Today.

Promising to Finish the Through Coast Line.

A Correspondent Writes a Particularly Pertinent Letter.

Some Fast Train Running—Big Passenger Business for the Santa Fe—General, Local and Personal Mention.

A party of Southern Pacific officials arrived at Santa Barbara last evening, having come from San Francisco by the Coast line and traversed the gap between the two sections of road by means of a stage. They left Los Olivos in the morning, driving by way of Gavito Pass to Ellwood, thence by rail to Santa Barbara, whence they will come on to Los Angeles, and are due to arrive here at 10 a.m. today. The party consists of Col. C. F. Crocker, first vice-president; A. N. Towne, general manager; J. M. Fillmore, general superintendent, and others. They were met at Ellwood by Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agent J. M. Crowley, and others with three special cars. On their way southward the officials interviewed the citizens on the subject of building the necessary road to close the gap between Los Olivos and Ellwood, and gave assurances of the company's intention to push the work. It would have been interesting for the officials to have continued their trip on down the Coast from Huemene to Santa Monica, but as they have not the mountain climbing qualifications of the wild goat, they had to go a more roundabout way by rail. Where they will go from Los Angeles today is not known definitely, but of course, Santa Monica is in the itinerary.

POSSIBLY AN EXTREME VIEW.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] In reference to the attempted train-wrecking at Colfax, I would like to inquire, why wasn't the train robbed? We read of many like incidents on the Southern Pacific; usually it is reported to be the work of "dastards," done for purposes of robbery; but the train is never robbed. Isn't it just possible that this is a very poor excuse to shield the Southern Pacific Company from moral or legal responsibility? Do they keep their track in anything like the shape that eastern roads do? Not a bit of it. Their track is in a disgraceful condition. In many places they keep an Irishman and half a dozen Chinamen to fifteen miles of track, while they are pounding over it with the heaviest kind of engines and heaviest loaded cars all the time. They use redwood ties, and lots of them are cut almost in two by the wearing of the rails; but there they stay, and when the spikes pull out from the pressure of a train, it is a clear case of attempted train robbery. They won't ballast the track, and when it slides and wrecks a train, "it's the work of a train robber," they say. This sort of thing is getting to be too thin and there are too many wrecks on the Southern Pacific.

SCRAP HEAP.
There is still a heavy tourist travel to Yosemite.

B. H. Garland, traveling agent for the Wabash, with headquarters at Portland, Or., is visiting in Los Angeles, looking over the land.

It may be looked upon as a significant fact that General Manager K. H. Wade, of the Santa Fe lines in Santa Barbara yesterday, where the Southern Pacific managers arrived later.

The Santa Fe passenger department took the plum at San Francisco Monday by selling forty-six Chicago tickets to members of the Wells circus. Charges of rate cutting are made but strenuously denied.

The approximated gross earnings of the Atchison Company for the fourth week in September are the largest for any week in the history of the company for the same number of days, having been exceeded only by the last week of October, 1890, in which there was one more day.

THE EAST SIDE.
Another Home Industry to be Established—Young People's Mass Meeting.
East Los Angeles is to have another home industry, it appears, arrangements having been completed whereby a silver-plating works is to be established on Downey avenue, operations to begin probably on or before the 1st of November.

At a meeting held one evening this week it was decided to call a mass meeting of all the young people's societies of the different churches, to meet at the Congregational Church on next Tuesday evening to discuss plans for the advancement of the mutual work of the societies.

The entertainment and social given by the Church of the Epiphany is to be at Moore's Hall instead of at the chapel as at first announced.

Dr. Steadman returned yesterday from a hunting and pleasure trip through Antelope Valley and the adjacent mountains.

S. P. Smoot, who was thrown from a wagon and had his leg broken on Monday, was yesterday doing well and resting easily for the first time since the accident.

It is all but decided that work be commenced on the completion of the Church of the Sacred Heart on Sichel street. At least that was the sense of a recent meeting of the male parishioners held to consider the question. A few points, however, remain to be settled, but it is more than likely that work will be begun very soon.

There will be a concert tonight at the I. O. O. F. Hall on Downey avenue for the benefit of the Church of the Epiphany.

THE POLICE COURT.

A Field Day for Tramps, Vagabonds and Prostitutes.

Justice Owens' department of the Police Court was crowded with saloon men, who pay no attention to the Sunday ordinance, "crib" women who think they have a perfect right to solicit, tramps and vagabonds, and a lobby full of all classes of humanity yesteryday afternoon at 1:30, the regular hour for the police business. The tramps, drunks and vagabonds were disposed of in Justice Owens' rapid style when the dozen Alameda and New High street "crib" women were taken in hand. They all pleaded guilty and were fined from $15 to $25 each, according to the number of times they have been in the Police Court on the same kind of a charge.

The saloon men pleaded not guilty and their cases were set down for trial. The chain gang is rapidly filling up and if the police keep up their present gait there will soon be no room in the city prison for the regular weekly drunks.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14, 1891.

The new crop of beans is meeting with slow sales just at present, and prices are rather low, although not especially so far this season. The San Francisco market is overstocked, and for the time being the bottom seems to have dropped out there. The cause is lack of demand from the East. It is too early to determine the amount of the eastern crop, and until that is approximately known, dealers are disposed to go very slow in sending orders to California. The yield in this state is not thought to be unusually large. It is estimated that the Santa Barbara and Ventura crops are about average. In this county the yield of small Navy, pink and Lima beans is thought to be larger than in any former year, but this is due mainly to an increased acreage planted. As a whole there is no overproduction in the state, and unless the eastern crop, which is believed to be a large one, should prove something unprecedented, there is good reason to expect that prices for California growers who can hold their product a few weeks longer.

The New York Commercial Bulletin has the following on the tricks of the raisin trade in that city:

"Reference has been frequently made in this column to the peculiar methods of some sellers of California raisins, among which was the offering of goods at extremely low prices, with a guarantee that the fruit should be 'as good as any packed in California.' Some jobbers ventured to place orders on such representations, but the innovation failed to strike the trade in general as one with which any risk could be taken. Packers of first-class goods and their local selling agents have, however, made an investigation and the result of their labors may be looked upon as private property. The Bulletin takes the liberty of placing a few plain facts before buyers. Some agents have been self-interested enough to ship out in delivery of the 'good as any' contracts. They have also placed on exhibition samples of first-class goods. Between the two as great a difference as between day and night is plainly visible. Several samples of the 'good as any' are really nothing better than two-crown quality. Some in fact are inferior specimens of that grade. All signs are very much at fault. If the new idea in selling raisins does not prove an unenviable venture before Thanksgiving week, the visible supply of grain in store and afloat, as compiled by the New York Produce Exchange is as follows: Wheat, 29,357,000 bushels, an increase of 1,602,000; Corn, 3,490,000 bushels, a decrease of 2,057,000; Oats, 5,074,000 bushels, a decrease of 781,000; Barley, 1,933,000 bushels, an increase of 664,000.

The butter market is active and firm, especially for California fancy roll. Large supplies are coming in from San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties and are meeting with rapid sales. Quotations are unchanged.

Money, Stocks and Bonds.

New York Money Market.—On call, easy; closing offered at 3 percent.

PRIME MERCANTILE PAPER.—At 5 1/2 to 7 1/2.

STERLING EXCHANGE.—Steady; 60-day bills, 4.80; demand 4.8 1/2.

New York, Oct. 14.—The stock market opened steady and quiet and was completely under the control of the bears. The general list was dull, and as a rule, featureless, and prices slowly declined.
